South's Opportunity
Five-Sixths of U. S.
Newsprint Imported

One of the great industrial opportunities for the South is clearly outlined in a new report by the Department of Commerce on the origin of newsprint used by American newspapers.

Although primarily a study of transport — the book is called "Transportation Factors in the Marketing of Newsprint" — its authors, Edward Margolin and William P. McLendon, point out that:

While the use of newsprint in the United States rose from 3.4 million tons in 1945 to 6 million tons in 1951 domestic production increased from .7 million to 1.1 million tons. In other words, nearly five-sixths of all the paper consumed by the nation's presses must be bought in foreign countries and shipped in to us.

Of course the overwhelming bulk of that foreign newsprint is furnished by our neighbor Canada. Some comes from Norway, Sweden, and Finland, but these shipments are relatively insignificant. Canada is dominant in the world newsprint market, controlling both traffic and price. But Canada is a long distance from many of our major cities.

The Department of Commerce book reports that delivery costs on the average comprise 12 per cent of the selling price of newsprint in the U. S. A.

So much for the government survey. What it means is simply this: The first two newsprint mills set up to utilize Southern pine cordwood — Southland Paper Mills at Lufkin, Texas, and the mill at Coosa Pines, Ala. — haven't even started the Canadian paper monopoly. We are still in the hands of mills so remote that transportation costs are a major factor in the selling price.

And the greatest factor of all, raw material supply, is something that also favors the South against Canada. Southern pine is a cheaper wood than the Northern spruce which the Canadians use, and it reaches pulpwood size in a fraction of the latter's growing time. Here is a magnificent industrial opportunity for the South, with the advantages of shorter transport and cheaper raw material.

Canada continues to hold its newsprint monopoly. Why? Mainly because Canada had the initial advantage in installed paper-making machines before the war; new mills must pay inflated construction costs in order to get into production today. And the overhead on this inflated investment is a forbidding handicap for our section.

To illustrate, the No. 1 Southern pine newsprint mill, at Lufkin, Texas, built in 1940 and expanded in 1945, represents an investment of about 25 million dollars. The Coosa Pines (Ala.) mill was built a couple of years later for around 32 millions. Today the British Bowaters mill under construction just east of Chattanooga, Tenn., is budgeted at 54 millions — showing the effect of inflation on installation costs — three plants of identical capacity — 25 millions to 54 millions.

Nevertheless the technical discovery by the late Dr. Charles Herty, great Georgia engineering chemist, that white paper could be made from Southern pine, will eventually bring much of North America's newsprint industry down here from Canada. All the advantages point our way except for inflated construction cost, and in time this factor will flatten out.

Publicity and Products Groups Announced

Personnel of additional Chamber of Commerce committees were made public today by Chamber President, Ben Owen. Mr. Owen said that the two committees, Publicity and Hope, Hempstead County, and Arkansas Products Committee, play a very important role in the life of the community and the Chamber of Commerce.

The two highway signs appearing on Highway 67 on each side of Hope are a result of the work of the 1952 Publicity Committee. The recognition Hope receives, state and nationwide, depends largely upon the Publicity Committee.

Dr. Emmett Thompson is chairman with Buddy Evans, Leonard Ellis, L. B. Tooley, Grover Thompson, Paul Jones, Roy Crane, Robert Wilson, Fred Gresham, K. E. Ambrose, and Cline Franks.

The Hope, Hempstead County, and Arkansas Products Committee works closely with the Publicity Committee because they are interested in the state and nation being aware of the products they are manufactured or grown in Hempstead County.

In addition to this, the committee is interested in our local people being aware of what is grown, made, and processed here and in the state and that these items be purchased and used in preference to competitive items from outside. New Gales Hit Stricken Areas in Europe

AMSTERDAM, (AP) — Warnings of new gales and high tides flashed fresh danger to battered Britain and Holland to day as an international armada of planes and boats braved waves and near-freezing weather to rescue survivors of the Continent's most frightful flood disaster since medieval times.

The unofficial death toll topped 1,600 — including 1,053 in Holland — but the Amsterdam newspaper Het Vrije Volk indicated today that more than 2,000 persons may have lost their lives in The Netherlands alone.

As thousands of workers raced against time to shore up shattered sea defenses in Britain and The Netherlands, some 2,000 vessels and more than 125 planes rushed to the evacuation of thousands of people by cold and suffering from three days of exposure in isolated villages throughout stricken Southwest Holland.

Het Vrije Volk said that the death toll on the Zeeland Island of Schouwen Duiveland alone may be nearly 1,000. It quoted the burgomaster of Zierikzee as saying he:

McCarthy Is Secretive on New Probe

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) launched a new public investigation today of one of his old targets, the State Department, and made a mystery of his plans.

McCarthy refused to name in advance the witnesses he has called before his Senate investigation subcommittee for an inquiry into handling of State Department personnel files.

McCarthy has said only he would lead off with three State Department workers as witnesses, and that "I assume it will take more than one day" to complete the inquiry.

For years McCarthy has centered that the department harbored Reds and their sympathizers, but he has evidently yielded formal search for any of them, at least for the present, to the Senate internal security subcommittee.

State Sues Hope Man for $4,009 in Back Taxes

Judge James H. Pilkinton late yesterday delayed hearing of a suit in which the State Revenue Department is seeking some $4,009.02 in alleged sales taxes collected but not paid to the state.

The suit was filed by Horace E. Thompson, revenue commissioner, against Dorsey McRae, Jr., doing business as the McRae Implement Company. The hearing was postponed until conclusion of the General Assembly because McRae's attorney, Dr. F. C. Crow of Hope, is a state senator.

The state alleges that during the period from January 1948 through December 31, 1951 (as evidenced by a certificate of indebtedness filed January 16, 1953) gross receipt taxes amount to $4,009.02. The state asks this amount plus interest and costs.

Foreclosure Sought — The state also alleges that the defendant is indebted to the state for an "undetermined amount" together with a penalty thereon in the amount of 50 per cent of said undetermined tax because of his, the defendant's fraudulent intent.

Officer Gets 3 Years in Korea Slaying

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 4 (UP) — An army court martial today ordered 2nd Lt. James D. Goff of Dallas, Tex., cashiered from the service and sentenced him to two years at hard labor for "aggravated assault" resulting in the death of a Korean minister.

He was found innocent of a second charge of unlawful entry. Goff, 28, was accused of inflicting fatal injuries with a flashlight and a .45 caliber pistol on Pang Hwa Il, Presbyterian minister, Dec. 5 during a raid on Pang's brother's house in a search for stolen army goods. Pang died five days later on an American hospital ship.

Negroes May Be Placed on Burial Board

By RAY STEPHENS
LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — A much amended bill that would set up a state board to regulate Arkansas burial policy companies was to be amended again today, to provide that Negroes be represented on the board.

Sen. Jack V. Clark of Texarkana said, he would offer the amendment, which would increase the membership of the proposed board from seven to 10. He said the rider further would provide that at least two of the 10 members be Negroes.

"Forty-four of the 120 burial companies in Arkansas are operated by Negroes," said Clark. "I think this gives them the right to representation on a board that is going to set the policy for the business."

The bill has stirred up a storm on controversy over a letter mailed to members of the Arkansas Burial Association by officials of the organization asking that they contribute $750 to the fund for the burial of the dead.

Four Defense Appointments Are Approved

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Four members of President Eisenhower's Defense Department team won unanimous approval from the Senate Armed Services Committee today — even before their nominations had been formally submitted to the Senate.

Committee approval came as the Senate prepared to debate the nomination of Harold E. Talbot to be secretary of the air force.

The Senate was expected to confirm Talbot for the post, last of the five top Defense Department jobs still unfilled. Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Armed Services Committee forecast "confirmation after a little more talk."

But Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said he still "is not satisfied" with Talbot's replies to criticism of World War I aircraft contracts by congressional committees and Charles E. Evans Hughes, special presidential investigator in 1917-18.

The Armed Services Committee acted on four additional defense appointments today.

Fulbright Urges Sending Planes to Nationalists

By JACK BELL
AND RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) suggested today the United States supply planes to Formosa's Chinese Nationalists to bomb Red China just as Russia is providing aircraft to the Reds in Korea.

Fulbright's proposal was made in an interview as other Congress members defended against British criticism President Eisenhower's order to the Seventh Fleet to free the Nationalists for attacks on the China mainland.

Among these, Sen. Cooper (R-Ky.), a former representative to the United Nations, said he fears that organization won't do anything effective to end the Korean War.

"The British don't like it, but we have got to act for ourselves in this matter," Cooper said. "President Eisenhower's action is the least dangerous step we could take right now that promises some relief in Korea."

Fulbright said he isn't familiar with the military necessities involved, but feels that if the U. S. transferred bombers to the Chinese:

Council Wants Data on Fee for Prisoners

Hope City Council last night delayed action on a prisoner's fee being charged by the county until the county judge and sheriff could discuss the matter with them.

For the past few years the city has been using the county jail on a so much per day per prisoner basis. Since the new administration took over at the courthouse the daily fee has been increased.

A petition to close the alley in Block 2, Brown's addition, from Terrell to East 10th Street, was received with a decision to be made at the March 3, council meeting. The alley has never been opened.

Turning to the police department the group delayed action on a request to replace old radio equipment, and voted to hold up pay checks to departing officers until they turned in uniforms.

The group turned over to the city port committee a request to pay for butane gas system at the port but voted to give Rufus Martin $600 damages to his truck which was in a wreck involving a city truck, and agreed to pay $65 to Dick Erwin for shrubbery cut out on Park Drive last summer.

Clyde Zinn requested a new "trouble-shooter" truck for the municipal plant and the matter was turned over to a committee.

Economy Hits, Workers Fearful of Defense Jobs

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Department of Defense, which spends well over half the government's money, is taking an Eisenhower-inspired close look at its $40,000,000,000 proposed budget.

This is in line with a White House directive to the entire government to re-examine policies for spending and for hiring new workers. The goal, economy.

In a sense, the Defense Department will open up the whole military program for review," declared Assistant Defense Secretary W. J. McNeil. He made clear the new economy coming would include equipment procurement, construction and military manpower.

Price, Wage Controls on Deathbed

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Federal wage and price controls were on their deathbed today, and the only remaining question seemed to be how long a death they would have.

The present control law expires April 30, and President Eisenhower told Congress he does not want it extended. He has legal authority to end the controls earlier.

Harry Weiss, executive director of the Wage Stabilization Board, put out information yesterday that a decision has been made to terminate wage controls immediately.

The White House cracked down. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the Weiss statement was "an unwarranted assumption of authority." He said Weiss had authority only to give wage board employees notice they might be out of jobs by March 5.

"The other day at lunch I saw a fur wrap drop to the floor from the back of a woman's chair. I went over, brushed it off and handed it to her. She took it, hung it again on the chair, and turned away without a word, a nod or a smile."

"I guess she figured I had been put on earth years before just so I could grow up and run over and pick up that jacket for her at the exact moment. I had a wild urge to throw the jacket back on the floor and jump on it."

He said he didn't do this because he wasn't sure whether the other men in the restaurant would beat him up or break into admiring applause for his courage.

British Fearful of Spreading War in East

LONDON, (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had lunch today with Prime Minister Churchill. Informed sources said Dulles has been told Britain strongly disapproves of the United States action denaturalizing Formosa.

Dulles not privately before the luncheon with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who outlined to Dulles Britain's fears regarding the move which leaves Chinese Nationalists free to raid their Communist-ruled homeland.

Dulles' reply was not disclosed. He was expected to assure the British the new U. S. administration has no intention to expand the Korean War.

Present also at the luncheon was Churchill's official residence were Eden, Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen and U. S. Charge d'Affaires Julius C. Holmes. The general Far Eastern situation was discussed there.

Twice during the day American and British leaders, with their advisers, went into full-scale conference at the foreign office on several other aspects of their foreign and economic policies.

Britain already has told the United States it fears "unbridled" Communist expansion.

Cotton Loans Can Be Made Through PMA

Loans on warehouse-stored cotton may be obtained either through an approved lending agency or the county PMA Committee. The necessary loan documents must be prepared by an approved loan clerk, usually located at the lending agency, approved warehouse or the county PMA office. This information is passed on to Hempstead County cotton growers by H. B. Gilbert, Chairman of the County Production and Marketing Administration Committee. He advises that this type of price support loan has been the most popular with cotton producers.

Government purchases agreements on cotton, as well as loans on farm-stored cotton, also are available. The necessary papers for these may be obtained through the PMA county committee or the county in which the cotton was produced.

Under the purchase agreement, Mr. Gilbert explains, the producer has an option to sell a specified quantity of eligible cotton to CCC at the applicable support price. The producer retains ownership of his cotton throughout the season and can sell it at any time in the open market. The purchase agreement method of support affords price protection to growers who do not want an immediate return from their cotton crop, such as available under a cotton loan.

Farm-stored loans are made on cotton stored on farms in structures approved for that purpose. The loans are secured by chattel mortgages on the cotton. If such loans are not repaid before maturity, the cotton must be delivered to an approved warehouse in accordance with delivery instructions issued by the county committee.

Mr. Gilbert further reminds cotton farmers that the first date for putting cotton in the loan under the 1942-53 marketing year is April 30, 1953.

Dulles Finds Hornet's Nest in Britain

By PHIL NEWBOM
UP Foreign News Editor
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles ran into a "hornet's nest" when he reached London.

But actually the hornet over President Eisenhower's lifting the ban on Nationalist Chinese attacks on the Red in England only points up a number of differences between the United States and Britain.

And the differences are not confined by the fact that Britain knows she is tied to the tail of the U. S. kite, and in the hot and cold war against Russia "knows" she must fly or crash with it.

Neither do the join up with the Russians.

In protesting the U. S. decision to declassify Formosa, the British are not on very firm ground. Former President Truman's 1950 decision to "declassify" Formosa was a U. S. decision alone. The decision to declassify it also is a unilateral U. S. decision.

But that's by no means the only difference between the two countries.

The British are rejecting our pressure on them to take a greater part in the European defense community.

So far as the British populace is concerned the Korean war is an American war, not a British war. The British were heavily offended by our refusal to include them in the "Anzio" talks with Australia and New Zealand for Pacific defense.

They also are offended by our refusal to share with them our atomic secrets.

Finally, the British go along with the rest of Europe in demanding that the United States should not "go it alone" but should "go it with" them.

here for their own freedom.

"If you hold the elevator door open for a lady in her own apartment building, she will smile graciously. But meet her at a tobacco counter and she will elbow past you to order her pack of butts first."

You simply can't get women to wait their turn in line. Ordinary courtesy seems beyond their understanding. Whenever they want is more important than what you want—and it has to be done right now.

If men acted in public as women do, you'd have chaos—flat fights everywhere.

There is some truth in this, of course, but it may be, I feel, however, that it is only a passing phase reflecting women's present insecurity. They aren't accustomed yet to having equal rights, and are unsure of their own power.

All they need is a little time—say a couple of centuries. By then they will realize they have the strength to push their own way without help through a revolving door. They will learn their fear that men are trying to get ahead of them.

Once they relax and regain self-confidence in themselves, women again will return the words "thank you" to their vocabulary.

"But I can't wait that long," objected one cynic to whom I explained my theory. "Why not just put women back on their old pedestal—at gunpoint if necessary—and then tip-toe away and leave them there?"

The petition, filed January 30, asks for both real and personal property foreclosure and the appointment of a receiver for the McRae Company.

Denies Allegations

In answer to the complaint the defendant through his attorney Dr. F. C. Crow, denied "all material allegations" and "pleads the statutes of limitations."

The motion for continuance, also filed yesterday, was granted by Judge Pilkinton on the grounds that the defendant's attorney is a member of the state senate which is now in session.

Wife of Truman Aide Resigns Job

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Mrs. Leon Keyserling, wife of former President Truman's chief economic adviser, resigned a $10,500 government post just before the change of administration.

Mrs. Keyserling was accused by Sen. McCarthy (R-Vt.) of having been a Communist, but was cleared by the Commerce Department's Loyalty Appeals Board.

She was chief of the international economic analysis division of the Office of International Trade in the department. It was from this post it was learned last night, that she resigned Jan. 19.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Finnish tanker loaded with 7,000 tons of strategic fuel from Romania is reported on its way to Communist China today despite American government efforts to stop it.

Informed officials disclosed this today amid speculation that President Eisenhower may eventually consider a naval blockade of the China Coast to shut off such strategic shipments.

The tanker Wilma was said to be in the Suez Canal port last week, plying up its highly strategic cargo at a Black Sea port last week.

The State Department tried unsuccessfully to persuade the Finnish and Turkish governments to stop the vessel.

Finland pleaded that it could do nothing to cancel registry of the vessel. It was understood the Turkish government applied it could not legally intercept the ship when it passed through the Dardanelles Straits several weeks ago because an international convention guarantees freedom of transit for all ships.

The Chinese Nationalist Navy may possibly challenge the vessel when it passes near Formosa.

nominations today after Saltonstall produced a letter from Eisenhower promising to sign the nominations to the Senate during the day.

Approved by the committee after a brief hearing were these four members of "little cabinet" rank: John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State college, assistant secretary of defense for manpower and personnel, succeeding Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg.

Charles S. Thomas of California, head of a retail clothing store chain, undersecretary of the navy.

Earl Dallas Johnson of Connecticut, now an assistant secretary of the army, to be undersecretary of the army.

Frank C. Nash of Washington, assistant secretary of defense coordinating all foreign aid and international programs.

Nash and Johnson are holdovers from the Truman administration and served under Robert Lovett.

All four officials promised the committee they would sell off any stocks or financial holdings they believed might involve conflicts with their official positions.

Saltonstall said he hopes to win Senate confirmation for the four new nominees at a Friday session of the Senate.

The new gale warning was announced for the North Sea area. Accompanying the grim forecast was a British Air Ministry prediction that strong winds developing farther south during the day will "lead to heighten the tides on the east coast."

Already a biting wind was whipping up the sea again along England's Norfolk—hit hard by the rushing waters which—high tides and hurricane winds sent pouring over the land Sunday.

Utah Officials to Clean Out Capitol

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Tomorrow is cleaning day at the Utah State Capitol and pushing the broom will be Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado.

It's the payoff for an election bet Gov. Thornton lost to Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah, and everything is in readiness. Even a well-soiled governor's office.

This was the bet: That the percentage of voters who cast ballots in Colorado in last November's general election would be greater than the percentage in Utah. The losing governor would be a janitor in the winner's office for one day.

The outcome: Colorado turned out 83.79 per cent of the state's registered voters; Utah 84.20 per cent to lead the nation.

After the cleanup, the two governors will parade through downtown Salt Lake City. In the parade will be the National Guard band, attired in fatigue uniforms; a garbage wagon, and street-cleaning equipment. The color guard will carry brooms instead of rifles and mops instead of the colors.

Marshall Tito May Visit Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Marshall Tito may visit Turkey this summer, the semi-official Turkish Anadolu Agency said today in a dispatch from Yugoslavia.

It added that Yugoslavia's president and received an invitation from Hulusi Koymen, head of the Turkish parliamentary delegation now visiting Yugoslavia. Koymen reportedly delivered the invitation on behalf of Turkish president Celal Bayar at talks with Tito Feb. 1 at Pula.

Bodies of four more Americans were recovered from their homes on England's east coast today, raising the toll of known Americans dead to 15. Three others were still missing and presumed lost.

Along with the desperate race to save persons still trapped in fire, allies, on dikes and other surrounding high places, workers faced the grim task of rebuilding dikes against the threat of coming high water tides that might allow forces to break through.

Economy

But McNeill also said he was confident the economy drive decreed yesterday by the Budget Bureau with President Eisenhower's blessing contained "nothing... that will wreck any defense program."

The huge Defense Department, like all other government agencies, was bound by the three basic rules laid down by Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge:

1. Hiring of government workers is to be suspended until in each case it can be determined if the job can be eliminated or done by employees already on the payroll.
2. Construction is to be limited to "clearly essential" projects built under "strictest standards of economy."
3. Operations are to be conducted at a minimum spending level, with any unnecessary activities eliminated.

nate political repercussions" will flow from the changed American policy towards Formosa.

A foreign office spokesman told reporters at a daily news conference—held while Dulles and Eden were meeting—that Britain's expressions of concern had not been answered with any American assurances.

This country fears that if a new shooting area opens up between Chinese Communists and Nationalists, the Allies run the risk of embroilment.

The informants said British representations to Washington on Formosa included an expression of strong disapproval as well as concern. Both were repeated in the talks with Dulles today.

The British House of Commons is to have an emergency debate tomorrow on Formosa and the Far Eastern situation in general.

Churchill and Eden reportedly sought answers to these questions from Dulles:

1. Does the U. S. intend to go on arming Chiang Kai-shek's armies?
2. Will the U. S. provide any sort of military protection for Chinese Nationalists raiding the Chinese mainland?
3. Will the U. S. shield Formosa from any Chinese Communist attacks?
4. Will the U. S. assure its friends it will avoid actions which might confuse the Chinese civil war with the U. N. action in Korea?

Other matters discussed Britain's plans for linking up her continental military forces with the projected European army, arrangements for early talks on a new program of economic cooperation between the U. S. and Europe and the uneasy Middle East situation where Britain wants firm American support in her explosive disputes with Iran and Egypt.

No Change in Utility Bond

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The House Committee on Public Service Corporations recommended to the House today that no change be made in the present law allowing public utilities to collect increased rates under bond.

After a public hearing last night, the committee suggested defeat of a four-bill which would remove or greatly restrict their willpower.

Mother, Four Children Die in Blaze

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The 21-year-old mother of four children who perished in a fire near Brinkley, Ark., yesterday, died at a hospital here early today.

Trinity Hospital attendants said Mrs. Alvin Walker, burned critically by a tractor fire explosion that set her home on fire, died at 4 a. m.

It was the second such tragedy in Arkansas in less than two months. Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Bryant and six of their seven children died in a kerosene explosion and fire at their home near North Little Rock in mid-December.

Only the husband and father, Alvin Walker survived yesterday's disaster. A timber worker, Walker, was away from home at the time.

Mrs. Walker said yesterday she used tractor fuel to kindle a fire in a stove at her home. It exploded and the house quickly was engulfed by flames.

The children—Frances Jean, 5; Donna May, 4; Ricky, 3, and Ronald Alvin, 8 months—were trapped in the one bed on which all were huddled.

Workers from a nearby sawmill attempted to rescue the children but were driven back by the intense heat.

Cherry Sends Highway Bills to Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Francis Cherry sent his highway program to the Legislature yesterday in a group of bills, which, among other things, would permit the State Highway Commission to take over county roads on a contract basis.

The bills were introduced in both chambers of the General Assembly.

Under the county road bill, the Highway Commission could agree with individual counties to build, repair and maintain all or part of the county's road system.

The idea, said the attached emergency clause, is to bring about a savings of money through the pooling of equipment and money.

Another of the bills is an enabling act for the Constitutional amendment setting up the new 5-member Highway Commission, and the others would (1) detail the duties and powers of the commission; (2) delegate authority over auto licenses, motor fuel taxes, and truck weights to the State Police; (3) repeal the 20-gallon exemption from motor fuel in tanks of commercial vehicles entering the state; (4) charge a fee of $5 for reservation of special car licenses, and (5) change the "mileage factor" for determining the tax due for gasoline used in operating vehicles in the state from

Hails Eisenhower as Style Setter

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Ballenta, president of the Custom Tailors Guild of America, said today President Eisenhower is by far the most authentic style-setter for American men that the nation has known in many generations.

Ballenta said that because of President Eisenhower's influence the nation's men have adopted a "comfortable dressy look."

"It was bare," he said, "trunks, a lot of guys lying around."

He paused.

"Both kinds," he said.

Strangely, some could still laugh at Pfc. Gene Hale, Cattlesburg, Ky., told how his buddy knocked out a Chinese bunker.

"The goony closed a window over the bunker every time he heaved out a grenade," he said, "so Mac goes up and drops a grenade down the hole just before the window closes. Then he stands there right on top just like a king and puts his hands over his eyes and ears."

A Victory, But a Price Is Paid

By FREDERICK C. PAINTON
WESTERN FRONT, Korea, (UP)
The snow-packed trail back from no-man's-land was splattered red with the blood of the wounded and littered with shreds of their clothing.

The trail climbed steeply into a solid Allied-held ridge, then dipped into a shallow valley where men in the backwash of the battle for an enemy-held hill were huddled.

American raiders had finished their attack. The threatening Communist strong point was badly damaged. It would take time for the enemy to rebuild.

Now we could count the cost.

In the valley you could hear in one minute a mean, a belly laugh or a curse on the verge of tears. Enemy shells still crashed and overhead was the whisper of our own shells.

A medical corpsman stood up suddenly from beside his stretcher and shouted:

"Three minutes! Three minutes more and we could have saved him if we'd had a stretcher!"

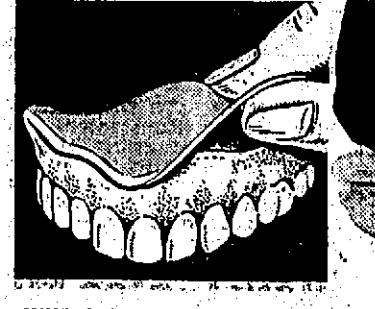

At his feet lay the body of another corpsman, strangely bloody and serene in the violent surroundings. A Chinese sniper had shot him through the stomach as he tried to carry back one of the last wounded from the hill.

Miracle Cushion Holds False Teeth Tight...

Eases sore gums!

NOW! Eat, talk, laugh as you please. Goodbye to loose, rocking, wobbly, uncomfortable plates. One re-liner lasts for months. Easy to apply in the privacy of your home.

SNUG DENTURE CUSHIONS are a triumph of science, a sensational new plastic re-lining that gets rid of the annoyance and irritation of loose fitting false teeth. One re-lining, applied in a few minutes, makes the wobbliest plates stay firmly in place—with perfect comfort. Eat corn-on-the-cob, steaks, apples—talk, laugh as you please—plates "stay put," firmly, solidly. No need to be embarrassed with falling, clicking and wobbling dentures. Soft, easy-to-clean Snug Denture Cushions are harmless to gums or dentures.

Sore, irritated gums very painful

Snug eases sore, irritated gums due to loose fitting dentures. All tender areas are gently cushioned with this soft plastic. Comfort is so enjoyable, most folks wear their plates day and night and only remove them for cleaning.

Used widely by many dentists

Snug Denture Cushions were first used by many dentists to help patients become accustomed to new plates... to comfort patients with old plates that have become loose due to tissue shrinkage. Since they were so effective, the cushions are now available to the public.

One re-liner can last months—easily replaced

Snug Denture Cushions can last for 2 to 6 months, according to the individual mouth. Stays soft and pliable—does not harden and ruin plate. Peels right out when ready to replace.

Re-lines loose plates when gums shrink

It's not your dentist's fault that tissues and gums shrink gradually—leave spaces between the plates and the mouth. Snug Denture Cushions re-line the plate so that there are no gaps between plates and gums. So easy to apply in the privacy of your home.

Other men talked of the battle in the blunt terms of those who had half-expected to die.

"I almost threw up on the spot," said Pfc. John Kurus, Akron, N. Y. "he was running up the hill when the round hit right in front of him. What was left rolled back down the hill."

Pfc. Dennis T. Lamb, of New York, tried to tell what the hill looked like.

"It was bare," he said, "trunks, a lot of guys lying around."

He paused.

"Both kinds," he said.

Strangely, some could still laugh at Pfc. Gene Hale, Cattlesburg, Ky., told how his buddy knocked out a Chinese bunker.

"The goony closed a window over the bunker every time he heaved out a grenade," he said, "so Mac goes up and drops a grenade down the hole just before the window closes. Then he stands there right on top just like a king and puts his hands over his eyes and ears."

The term "whalebone" is inaccurate, since it is not bone but horny roof-plates of a whale's mouth.

JAYNE'S P.W. tablets KILL PIN-WORMS

(You may have them and not know it!)

Piddering, nose-picking and a form of rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... tiny parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P.W. tablets do... and here's how they do it.

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P.W. Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

JAYNE'S P.W. for PIN-WORMS

Under the county road bill, the Highway Commission could agree with individual counties to build, repair and maintain all or part of the county's road system.

Gosh! What a hungry country!

Think of it. There are 45,000,000 families in the country...

eating 81,000,000 loaves of bread every day...

and (proving that man does not live by bread alone) consuming $4,000,000 newspapers every day.

The hunger for bread is powerful—but so is the hunger for news!

And just as bread is in a class by itself, so are newspapers as an advertising medium.

Of course! Doesn't it make sense for advertisers to depend on the medium that customers depend on?

Singer Sues Film Firm for $600,000

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Singer Tony Romano asks $600,000 damages on his claim that, without his permission, he was depicted as a murderer, thug, gangster and convicted felon in a movie using his name and likeness.

His suit, filed yesterday, is against United Artists Corp., Associated Players and Producers, Inc. and Edward Small, identified as the producer and distributor of the movie.

But, as I say, you can deduct your contributions to leaders like Schultz's Anti-Nazi League in Los Angeles, who are now taking in money.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler
Copyright, 1952
By King Features Syndicate.

I would like to lend you the $300 because I know how painful your emergency is but these days a fellow must earn at least $1,000 and perhaps as much as $1,500 to clear $500 for himself after taxes. You can see what that means in our case. I know as well as you do that a broken hip is a terribly expensive proposition in an old lady and I devoutly hope that our inventive genius will come up with something on the order of a harness or derriek that will reduce the incidence of broken hip in elderly mothers-in-law, getting in and out of bathtubs.

Statistics show that in the fiscal year 1950-51, broken hips of mothers-in-law rose 12.7 per cent above fiscal 1949-1950 and that the cost of hospital rooms, nurses' salaries, surgical care, including those phis and the process of putting them in and taking them out, taxis to and from hospital for members of the family, flowers X-Rays and incidentals increased 24.5 per cent.

Now, in your position, working for a shaky company and facing the fact of your unfortunate lack of competence to progress further in your line of business, we have to face the probability that you would never be able to pay me back the $500. Knowing you as I do, I would count on you not to put aside your dimes and quarters in a cookie jar and to pay me off $5 or $10 at a time. People used to do that but they just don't do it any more and moreover they have an idea that a fellow with an earning capacity relatively larger than their own has plenty of money and doesn't miss $500 or $1,000. I don't blame you, because an income of $25,000 a year sounds like a million, for not realizing that the income tax bite gets deeper as the income mounts higher.

I will tell you what, though. I don't mind lending or giving you the $500 and hope it will help you in your trouble. I know what worry you are suffering and your poor wife is such a wonderful girl and so loyal and frugal that I would like to save her a little sleeplessness if I can. So, I will send you the $500 but I want you to sign a note for it with interest at, say, one per cent so that the deal will be strictly businesslike. Let us make it a three-year note so that I can get it off the books in a reasonable time.

At the end of three years I will write you a formal demand for the $500 plus interest and you can write me a rather insulting letter telling me that you have no assets, that your salary is barely enough to cover your current needs, that your insurance is all borrowed up and that, anyway, I ought to be ashamed to demand my money, a man of my income and wealth. Lay it on a little because I want to be able to show the internal revenue that I made a conscientious effort to collect a "bad" debt but failed for no want of sincere harassment.

Now this will put your into the record as a penny ante Elliott Roosevelt, but people will realize that we had to do this in order to redress a disadvantage put upon us by the income tax laws, and will make allowances. They will say I was a nice guy to get up the $500, they will understand that you honestly couldn't carry the load, they will see that it was a gift of friendship and they will applaud both of us for finding a way to duck the payment of a 100 per cent or even a 200 per cent penalty in income taxes of an act of generosity to an old friend.

If I wanted to give $500 to the non-sectarian anti-Nazi League to hire spies to steal documents from law-abiding citizens, I could deduct that from taxable income. There are many organizations not much better which enjoy the same privilege of "deductibility." Yet if I want to give $500 to an old friend to see him through a crisis which might end in a family disaster, I have to pay the government at least as much as I give the friend (and perhaps twice as much) to make up for the tax deductions taken by contributors to the Anti-Nazi League for the hire of professional thieves.

But this government, since the Roosevelt came in, hasn't set much store by the family as an institution. You may not realize that actually you pay income tax on money spent for every morsel of food and stitch of clothing which you buy for your wife and each of your children above the exemption of $900 per person per year.

And in the official government instructions published by the government printing office it says "loans to close relatives" which are not paid back "must not be listed as deductible losses."

So a playful fellow who gets in dutch over some tramp through cheating on his wife and finds it necessary to pay her $10,000 in the guise of a loan, can rig things so as to write it off as a bad debt after a certain time and escape taxes. But if your own brother is broken in health and absolutely down and out and you want to send him to Florida and buy for him a little place for him, nothing doing. You have to pay Uncle Shylock just as much or twice as much as you want to give or lend your own brother.

But, as I say, you can deduct your contributions to leaders like Schultz's Anti-Nazi League in Los Angeles, who are now taking in money.

Courtroom Manners of Reds Better

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist courtroom manners may not have improved but they seem a little less noisy than they used to be as batch after batch has been convicted of teaching conspiracy to overthrow the government by force.

There have been four trials of first and second-string Communist leaders since January, 1949. Forty-four have been convicted. The tactics of the first 11 convicted followed instructions laid down years ago.

They were jailed. And, since their conviction was upheld by the Supreme Court, the result may have had a quieting, or discouraging effect, on party members who went on trial later.

In the early 1930's the International Labor Defense, which former Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle later called the "legal arm of the Communist party," issued a 31-page paper bound booklet which sold at the time for 5 cents.

It has become so hard to find now that it is a collector's item, selling for as much as $12. The cover shows a man in work clothes leaning over a judge's bench and holding him up by the scruff of his neck. The judge has a dagger and a blackjack tucked in his belt.

This booklet—the title on the cover is "Under Arrest! Workers' Self-Defense in the Courts"—tells "workers" what to do when picked up by the police.

So far as dealing with the police goes, the advice of the booklet can be summed up: "Tell 'em nothing." But it goes into quite a bit of detail on how to act when in court.

For example: "Make the court your forum. Bring out the class issues at the trial. In most cases the judge and prosecutor will try to evade the class character of the case."

And it further advises: "If you are charged with teaching... Then it is absolutely necessary for you to use the court for a clever and correct explanation of the economic and social views which you hold of the facts of the case struggle as applied to your case."

Eugene Dennis, one of the top 11 leaders convicted in the first trial, apparently followed the advice of the booklet even to the title. He was his own defense counsel. The other 10 had lawyers.

The trial of the 11, in Judge Harold R. Medina's Federal Court, took 39 weeks. Five lawyers in the case drew jail sentences, ranging from 30 days to six months, for contemptuous conduct toward Medina. The 11 leaders got penitentiary terms.

The Communists tried to turn the courtroom into a forum. Pro-Communists pickedeted outside, chanting. Heckled as probably no other judge in American history, Medina kept his temper.

He knew that if he blew up the men before him, if convicted by the jury, might win a new trial because of his conduct. So he stayed calm although several times he left the bench until the wrangling died down.

The next trial—five Communist second-string leaders and a party lawyer—was in Baltimore but was much quieter and lasted only six weeks. The six were convicted April 1, 1952.

Fourteen leading California Communists were convicted next after a trial that lasted six months in a Los Angeles court before U. S. Judge William C. Mathes. In spite of its long-drawn-out nature the judge commended the defense counsel for "care and quality of your work in this case." The jury gave its verdict Aug. 5, 1952.

On Jan. 21, 1953, in U. S. Judge Edward J. Dimock's court in New York, 13 more second-string party leaders were found guilty by a jury. Although this one lasted 8½ months Dimock called it "just a run of the mill" case.

Nevertheless, the line laid down in the booklet on what "workers" on trial should say, appears faithfully in what one Communist after another among the convicted 44 said during the trial or at the time of sentencing.

Tech Again Downs Southern State

By The Associated Press

Arkansas Tech's stock in another AIC basketball championship and a perfect season record is at a peak following a second, and most convincing, victory over Southern State.

The Wonder Boys, who had a tough time nipping the Muldoers 83-81 on the floor court at Russellville last week, walloped them 90-72 at Magnolia last night.

Center E. C. O'Neal tallied 15 points in sparking Tech to its 14th triumph of the season and its ninth in Conference play. His personal rival and AIC scoring leader, Calvin Thomas of Southern, hit for 25.

In other league games last night, second-place Arkansas College boosted its AIC record to 8-1 by doesn't like the family. The gimmicks on the division of income between husbands and wives—and that ought to be the sublime partnership in our civilization—show a hostility to the family as an institution.

I am enclosing my check for $500. As soon as you can get around to it, will you please send me your note for the loan?

Sincerely,

Earthquake Shakes San Diego Area

SAN DIEGO, Calif., (AP)—A window-rattling earthquake startled residents in parts of San Diego and Riverside Counties last night.

No serious damage was reported, although there were reports of plaster shaken loose in one home.

The quake was felt from El Cajon Valley, 15 miles east of here, westward through San Diego and La Jolla, and also at Indio, Perris and Riverside in Riverside County. Indio is about 100 miles northeast of here.

Talbot Comes Up for Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Talbot, President Eisenhower's choice for secretary of the Air Force, comes up for expected Senate confirmation today.

He is the last of five business executives, picked for key defense department posts, to face this hurdle. The other four cleared it by wide margins.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, which favorably reported Talbot 14-1, forecast "confirmation after a little more talk."

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) told a reporter he still "is not satisfied" with Talbot's replies to criticisms of World War aircraft contracts by congressional committees and Charles Evans Hughes, a special presidential investigator in 1917-18.

Kefauver questioned Talbot sharply on Monday about a 1919 report by Hughes which said the Dayton Wright Airplane Company, headed by Talbot, used improper methods in obtaining some 30 million dollars worth of World War aircraft contracts.

DOROTHY DIX

Tactless Friends

Dear Miss Dix: What do you think of these "frank" people who pride themselves on "speaking their minds?"

I have a friend who is driving me crazy. Whenever she comes to my home she finds fault with something—always for "my own good, of course." She makes disparaging remarks about my clothes—even in the presence of others. It is embarrassing to me, as well as upsetting. She is a person who will do anything for you, but spoils it all with these remarks. While I don't believe in being deceitful, I do think it better to make no comment at all than to be continually belittling.

G. S.

Answer: It's really wonderful how some outspoken people can set themselves up to be highly virtuous. They throw overboard every vestige of tact, consideration, politeness and kindness for the dubious distinction of being perfectly honest at all times. Of course, actually they are not being perfectly honest, the law of average alone would necessitate at least an occasional kind comment, which people who pride themselves on telling us things for our own good never make. It's only human failings that are worthy of the multitudes one's attention.

Frankness Begs Frankness

Try giving it for tact. The next time your friend brags about her frankness tell her you agree wholeheartedly with her principles, adding: "How did you ever come to pick a hat that particular shade of brown? It makes your dull hair look even more drab. And with your sallow skin—!" The lady will be annoyed, that's for sure; it's one of the strange anomalies of human nature that people who expect others to have hides like elephants are themselves so sensitive that their fragile skins are pierced by anything that even remotely resembles a barb.

This particular failing is like so many others masquerading under different guises, an outward manifestation of a deep, inward inferiority. People who suffer from inferiority complexes often take the oddest means to focus attention on themselves. That the attention is usually unflattering is a minor point they overlook. If a fairy godmother could teach these folks to bring out their better qualities, both they and their associates, would benefit. Why not try the role of godmother? If you can draw the lady out, win her confidence and learn what she would like from life, and what she has to contribute—though she may be unworthy herself just what her abilities in this line may be—you may be able to turn a menace into a blessing.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a young man of 28, sensitive and artistic, married 3 years to a woman of 39, a fine person whose wealth has enabled me to have the luxuries and objects d'art I have always desired. At first we were completely happy, but now I find myself in love with her 18 year old daughter of a previous marriage. The girl has inherited her mother's charm and has, in addition, a fine vibrant beauty. Do you think my wife will understand if I ask for a divorce?

Answer: There are probably fine, succinct words to describe a creature like you, but I'm afraid no newspaper would print them. I used them.

You marry an older woman solely for money, then decide that your avaricious possessiveness might as well include her daughter—who is, in herself, a charming object d'art, when you approach your wife with the proposition you have in mind, she should pick you up bodily and toss you out of her home. I'd give anything to see her do it.

Too many women are similarly beguiled by the blandishments of young men who would rather marry money than earn it.

I hope your wife takes full advantage of the opportunity to be rid of you, and that her daughter has developed enough sense to see through your cupidty.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a single girl of 21 and have been seeing a young man for about three months. Neither of us has dated anyone else in that time, and for the past month I've been sure I want to marry him. I have been hoping he'd say something to this effect, but so far he hasn't. When I asked him to make something definite between us, he said I was rushing him. I have no desire to rush him into anything, but would like to know where I stand.

TRIOUBLED

Answer: You certainly are an impetuous young lady, definitely ready to risk romance for gratification. Proposing to a man you've known only three months is rushing things even in this fast-propulsion age.

You aren't even being fair to yourself. An acquaintance of more than three months is needed before two people can get to know each other sufficiently well to be sure they want to be together for the rest of their lives. At 21 you're scarcely ready to be put on a shelf if you happen to miss the boat with this particular young man. If you should lose him in six months, as you seem to fear, you still have lots of time for making and you've had the pleasant memories of a good friendship. By this time I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the boy hasn't been permanently scared off by your precipitation. If you're lucky enough to have him around yet, take things a little easier and let him do the courting.

Crude Oil Output Is Increased

TULSA, Okla., (UP) — United States crude oil production increased nearly 20,000 barrels daily last week for an average daily output of 5,177,375 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal reported here today.

The greatest gain was reported in Kansas, where production increased 23,400 barrels daily over the previous week. Other gains included Oklahoma, 2,000 barrels; Arkansas, 1,600; and New Mexico, 100.

Colorado had the greatest loss, 2,000 barrels daily. Louisiana production dropped 1,350 barrels, while Texas showed no change.

Seton Hall Is Best So Says Press Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Seton Hall's perfect record convinced the nation's basketball experts again this week that the South Orange, N. J., Pirates are the best college team in the country.

It was the third straight week in the top spot of the Associated Press poll for Coach Henry Russell's club, equalling Kansas State's first-place run earlier in the season. La Salle led in the first two polls.

The sportswriters and broadcasters kept a hot hand right through the first six places after a week in which form prevailed. Indiana, though idle, finished second, followed by Washington, La Salle, Kansas State and Illinois.

Four-time loser De Paul jumped from 10th to seventh after an impressive Saturday night decision over Notre Dame. Western Kentucky moved up from ninth to eighth, swapping places with Oklahoma A & M.

Louisiana State, a newcomer, with an impressive 14-1 record including the Sugar Bowl Tournament title, slipped out the top 10. Fordham tumbled from seventh to 13th after losing to St. John's of Brooklyn. The Tams were the only member of last week's top 10 to lose a game during the week.

Four of the top 10 were in action last night and they made the experts look good. Indiana rolled up a new scoring record for the Hoosier fieldhouse in smothering Butler, 103-70. Illinois found the going even easier against De Paul, winning 95-50. Western Kentucky opened a busy week by downing Bowling Green, 71-60, and the Oklahoma Aggies whipped Detroit, 67-48.

Seton Hall, with 21 straight victories, doesn't act again until Thursday night against St. Bonaventure in Madison Square Garden. The Pirates received 634 points in the poll, which counts 10 points for a first-place ballot, 9 for second place and so on down the line.

The leaders (first-place votes in parentheses):

1. Seton Hall (38) 534
2. Indiana (6) 533
3. Washington (10) 528
4. La Salle (3) 419

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Let's playing Yankees and try to figure out what we're going to do about this boy Mickey Mantle who blatted to the press up in Boston the other day that he expects to be paid $25,000 for playing center field for us this coming season.

That's an awful lot of money for a kid like Mickey to be talking about. Two years ago this time he still was working in that mine out in Oklahoma and didn't even have enough dough to pay his way to our training camp in Phoenix until we sent it to him. He wouldn't believe us at first when we told him he'd get $25 a week just to spend on malted milks and moles while we were in camp.

All right, just for the sake of argument we'll say Mickey was worth more to us than the $8,000 we paid him last season. He's a great young ballplayer all right. Another two-three years and he'll probably be recognized as the best in the game — out there all by himself. That's why we've got to do some thinking about his future now and convince him what will be best for him in the long run.

We've given him a nice little raise, and he knows he'll keep getting every year until Cleveland gets itself shorted, which may be never. He's got a brilliant future ahead of him, this boy has, and he shouldn't take a chance of spoiling it by becoming impatient and talking in hoxen figures.

There's one little angle some folks seem to think we ought to consider. Maybe Mickey does too. It's about that big leg of his, the one that caused the Army's medical examiners to turn him down.

It's supposed to be incurable, as you know, and they say there's always a chance it will get worse at any time and cut short his baseball career. Because of that they feel we should make Mickey a sort of special case and begin paying him what he's worth right off. In other words, they say what good will it do Mickey if he learns about patience but never gets a chance to play for the real big money.

That's one side of it. The other is that the kid was getting around mighty well on that leg the last time we saw him, as you can prove by the Dodgers. We hope and trust that he always will.

So what happens to us if we put him up in the high brackets now and that leg just gets stronger with the years? It wouldn't be long before there wasn't enough money in our treasury to pay him off. We'd have a juvenile Babe Ruth or Joe DiMaggio on our hands. They're bad enough when they grow up.

What we'll have to do is tell Mickey all this so he'll understand it when he comes down here. Maybe we'll even find out he was misquoting about that $25,000.

Guns and Dogs Go Together

By WARREN PAGE

Shooting Editor

An honest Labrador retriever stole some duck shooting from me last Fall. Downright thievery. He wallowed out through the sludge of Illinois River bottom swamp land, mud too thin to wade in, water too shallow to push a boat through and picked up the fourth mallard drake I'd dropped that morning, a cripple that landed well out and was paddling further into the impenetrable slough. So the retriever robbed me of the opportunity, since there wasn't any way for me to hunt to pick up that bird, to wait for the next launch to swing into the decoys and shoot another duck to fill out my limit. But when you come to think of it, more of that sort of thievery will eventually mean better duck shooting for all of us.

In perambulating around the duck marshes of this country for quite some years, I can recall few days of shooting without a good retriever when the final tally did not include at least one or two ducks knocked down but impossible to recover. Even by determined effort. And that is with some pretty fair country duckshooters who don't sky-scrape for their birds, who hit 'em hard when they're well in over the spread.

If you spend your legal shooting hours with cloud-busters, or even with run-of-the-mill ducks and shooters, the score on birds hit but lost without dogs may give you bad nightmares — or at least, it will if you have anything of the conservationist in your soul.

Down on the Chesapeake marshes in '50 I was gunning a creek blind with a chap who sells guns for one of the big sporting arms manufacturers. Personally he's a serious conservationist from way back, and professionally he thinks the same way, for what are the best seasons, when you think of it. The blind ducks had been trading back and forth between bay and marsh off and on one another, but hadn't decoyed well, so it was nearly noon before I had my four birds strung together. He had three in the blind one down somewhere in the tussocks and cattails behind us. He had squigged and slipped over half an acre of marsh mud looking for that bird — half an hour at it — because wasting a duck or any other game bird is to him a serious crime against good sportsmanship. Promptly at noon the guide put-putted up to run us in to camp.

The curly Chesapeake with him took just five minutes to retrieve that final duck 30 to 40 yards from where we'd marked it down. Where some thing goes for upland game. Walking up grouse is a lot of fun for guys with strong legs — but how many of these nearly invisible camouflaged birds do you lose each season when you know for certain you've at least scratched 'em with the pattern? When a covey of quail buzzes out, it's tough enough to mark down every bird two guns may score when you have good dogs — what chance of finding them without a dog?

I've heard the argument advanced that using a pointer or setter to locate game, which is the first of a field dog's two basic functions, means many more game birds found and killed, ultimately the ruination of shooting. There is perhaps a grain of truth in this reasoning, but always ready to the stopper on lowered limits. More important conservation-wise is the hunting dog's second function, to find and retrieve any bird shot at and hit. That means elimination of waste in our game crop — and from where I sit reduction of wastage is one of the meanings of true conservation.

SIX KILLED KIDSGROVE, Eng. (AP) — Six men were killed and one injured in an explosion here last night in a coal mine. The explosion occurred in a privately-owned coal mine. All privately-owned coal mines are small pits operating under national coal board license. Conservation-wise, no details of the accident have been made available.

More Hunters Than Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record 13,002,428 hunting licenses were sold by the 48 states during the year ended last June 30, the Fish and Wildlife Service reports.

This was over a million more than the previous record of 12,758,798 set in 1949-50.

Bobcats Easily Down Emerson by 57-39 Tally

The Hope Bobcats made it an easy 57 to 39 victory over the Emerson five last night at the Hope Gym.

Hope led at the end of the first quarter 15 to 13 as Bruce and Russell hit for four points each and also led at the end of the half by a score of 31 to 20 with Hatch and Bruce getting 7 and 6 points.

Hope increased the lead at the end of the third quarter by a 47 to 39 count. Hatch led the scorers getting 3 points. The Bobcats easily coasted through the last quarter with the second string playing most of the way.

Garnie Hatch had 17 points, Bobby Bruce 12 points, and Billy Grant also 12 points.

In the first game last night the Hope Senior girls were defeated by the Emerson girls 37 to 34. Kay Kent and Patty Rogers led the Hope attack getting 16 and 11 points respectively.

Spa Helps Tigers Into Loop Lead

By The Associated Press

Little Rock's Tigers, with an assist from Hot Springs, are undisputed leaders in the Big Seven High School Conference basketball race today.

The Tigers bumped off cellarite El Dorado, 45-41, last night. Meanwhile, the Hot Springs Trojans ventured to Ft. Smith and bumped the Grizzlies out of a first place tie, 38-36.

El Dorado's Jim Parks and C. P. Griggs scored 17 and 16 points, respectively, but didn't have enough assistance from their mates to do any more than scare Little Rock.

A peaceful solution, staying on in the Blue Grass state. It would be wise, we think, to scratch Bryant from the SMU speculation.

And why would Meyer, who apparently bowed out voluntarily as coach at his alma mater, TCU, want to give up a leisure assignment as athletic director there to put his head back on the block?

But leave us not get into SMU speculation. We had enough of it in Arkansas for two long months.

Baylor Slams Texas Out of Clear Lead

By JOHN GRIFFIN

NEW YORK, (UP) — A missed free throw knocked Texas out of the Southwest Conference basketball leadership today, but North Carolina clung to first place in the Southern Conference despite a surprise, double-overtime loss to Richmond.

George Sealing of Texas was the hard-luck guy who missed the foul shot that cost the Longhorns a 60-59 defeat by Baylor, which moved up into a first-place tie with Texas Christian.

Sealing was fouled just as the gun sounded in the game at Waco, Tex. He sank the first of his two losses, but missed the second. The miff wrecked a dramatic rally by Texas from a 37-24 halftime deficit. John Starkey of Baylor took scoring honors with 23 points while little Leon Black had 20 for Texas.

Baylor now owns a 4-2 league record, the same as Texas Christian, while Texas drops into a third-place tie with Rice at 3-2.

North Carolina was upset, 67-62, by Richmond in a double-overtime win in the William Spiders' court at Richmond. That was the second loss in 15 league games for the Tarheels, and it gave Maryland the chance to seize first place. But Maryland also bowed in a double-overtime thriller, 63-62, to George Washington.

Richmond, a fresh-laden outfit which had lost four league games, was given little chance, especially since star Jim Gahagan was out with the flu. But Ed Harrison, subbing for Gahagan, hit for 28 points to pace Richmond's attack. Richmond led by 11 points after three periods but North Carolina rallied to tie, 74-74, at the end of regulation. It was tied, 79-79, after the first overtime, but the Spiders bagged eight points in the next five minutes to win.

DePaul, Fordham, Holy Cross, and St. Louis each scored expected victories to boost their national stock, but Holy Cross had a bad scare before beating Yale, 59-52, at New Haven, Conn.

Underdog Yale had the score tied, 50-50, with two minutes to play when the Crusaders, ranked 18th nationally, finally asserted their power to score their ninth win in 13 games.

DePaul, elevated to the No. 8 spot nationally this week, came through with an 83-43 rout of little Elmhurst to put its record at 16-4. Ron Petersen took 18 shots and sank 15 to lead DePaul with 30 points. Fordham, No. 12 nationally, put its record at 15-2 by whipping Colgate, 74-59, as Ed Conlin dominated the game by grabbing 36 rebounds, a Fordham record. St. Louis, No. 20 nationally, moved into second place in the Missouri Valley Conference with a 78-68 victory over Wichita.

ARKANSAS Sportettes

by CARL BELL

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Unless recent doings come to a quick halt, a football coach looking for steady employment had better steer clear of the Southwest Conference.

Maybe the "pressure" for winning teams is no greater than anywhere else in the country, but it certainly shows more clearly on the surface of the cut-throat Texas and Arkansas circuit.

There are seven schools in the Southwest Conference, but only two of these will enter the 1953 grid season with the same head coaches they had in 1952.

Three will have brand spanking new mentors — Arkansas, which picked Bowden Wyatt to succeed Ottis Douglas in the first post-1952 change; TCU, where assistant Abe Martin was moved up when Dutch Meyer retired; and SMU, which is looking for a successor to the resigned — or fired — Rusty Russell.

Other changes since 1950 have been Ed Price replacing Blair Cherry at Texas and Ray George taking over from Harry Stillel at Texas A & M.

Still around from the '50 coaching fraternity are George Sauer of Baylor, who began his tenure only that year, and the veteran Jess Neely, who seems to have a lifetime job at Rice.

Skipper Cries for Help on Grounded Ship

SAN DIEGO, Calif., (UP)—The skipper of an American freighter grounded off the Mexican coast appealed for armed assistance today as protection against restless crew members who may have a murder in their midst.

U. S. Coast Guard officials said they could not send guards aboard the S. S. Fairhope because the ship is in Mexican waters. She ran aground Friday night on rocks off San Benito Island, 40 miles off lower California.

Coast Guard authorities radioed Capt. H. T. Hallman, master of the 438-foot vessel said to be carrying a secret military cargo, that salvage treaties with Mexico provide that no American guard can be placed aboard a vessel in Mexican waters.

The U. S. consul's office at Tijuana, Mex., said it had been asked by the Coast Guard to help find out who was responsible for maintaining peace and security aboard the ship.
